

Frasuto Forest Community Nature Reserve

The Violet Turaco Musophaga violacea is quite a large bird, 45cm in length.

In flight the scarlet wing-feathers are striking. These birds are not dependent on forest but are often seen there, the reason the bird was chosen as the logo of Farasuto Forest Community Nature Reserve.

Please feel free to use this drawing for educational purposes it could even be used to colour-in but please make an acknowledgement to the project.

The Farasuto Forest Community Nature Reserve was founded in October 2008 by Babagelleh Bah and Yaya Barry with the help of John and Peter Tucker who instigated the project in January 2009. For more information please see www.farasuto.org you may use this drawing by Anna Jupp for educational purposes, it should not be re-distributed except with the express permission of Holbrook Design www.holbrook-design.co.uk